Hello Simone,

I appreciate your time today regarding discussions involving property ownership in historic uranium mining areas. I included a pdf of an old Platbook Map which provides the general area of interest (outlined in pink/south marked area). I also included a link to the EPA site where your staff can gain a better idea of the property in question for a more refined property search. I attached a pdf snapshot (labeled Haystack No. 1 and Associated Mines) of this previously mined area which I copied from the EPA OSC web page. You can gain access to the EPA OSC web page by clicking on the link below.
